To Whom It May Concern

I am happy to endorse the I.T. services of Mr Denis McAllister of Coras IT to any other client both personal and corporate.

We have employed Coras IT services for over 18 months now and are very pleased with the standard of knowledge, professionalism and reliability offered by Denis and his company. They have been particularly helpful in the setting up and servicing of our office network as well as maintenance and upgrade of our hardware & software requirements as our business has expanded.

As we now move on to the next stage of our business growth we have decided as a group to retain the services of Coras IT on a contract as our nominated IT support company and look forward to continued excellent relations with the company.

On a personal note Denis has assisted me in development of my home system and website for a separate business venture. I whole heartedly recommend this company and am happy to give a testimonial on the company's behalf.

Yours truly,

David P. Rowley MLIA (Dip)
