To whom it may concern

I would like to compliment C oras IT on their website design and support services. Since I had my website updated and maintained by them, there has been a significant increase in enquiries through the site and actual sales.

Their approach to web design and e-marketing is based on an understanding of how Search Engines operate, and thus avoid the pitfalls of leaving your Google ranking as an afterthought or simply to chance.

Once the site was up and running they have provided maintenance where necessary and support in areas such as email retrieval, in particular for mobile situations.
